Dear Supervisor Antonovich:

The Crescenta Valley Town Council requests that the County of Los Angeles support and work with the City of Glendale to study the feasibility of implementing a bicycle and pedestrian trail utilizing the Verdugo Wash flood control channel.

This trail would offer significant benefits to Crescenta Valley and Glendale residents in terms of recreation, transportation, connectivity, health, and the local economy. Not only would the pathway support and compliment efforts toward "complete streets," it would also link five parks within the County of Los Angeles and the City of Glendale, as well as provide easy access to 17 public and private schools, including Glendale Community College.

Finally, it would provide an opportunity for the County of Los Angeles and the City of Glendale to connect to the significant changes and improvements being planned and developed along the Los Angeles River which include extensive bicycle and pedestrian trails.

Thank you for your consideration regarding our community.

President

Robbyn Battles
